

IEA MEMBERS ALL ACROSS THE STATE are going above and beyond the call of duty for schools, children, students and communities.

Teachers, support professionals and higher education faculty are busy ...

Want to have a little fun catching a colleague in the act?

- ▶ going the extra mile for students
- ▶ working at local food banks
- ▶ collecting coats and gloves for needy students
- ▶ participating in community events
- ▶ painting or restoring schools and community buildings
- ▶ reading to children at public libraries
- ▶ fundraising and awarding scholarships to graduating seniors
- ▶ volunteering at senior citizens centers
- ▶ mentoring others
- ▶ contributing to their communities in many other ways through community service.

Let's catch each other doing these great things.

#IEAHelpsOut

ILLINOIS EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
www.ieanea.org

The IEA invites you to snap a photo of a colleague doing something great. (Yes, selfies are encouraged!) Then post it on your social media using the hashtag #IEAHelpsOut. The IEA will monitor the posts, put names of those featured in photos into a hopper, and conduct random drawings for cash prizes. The Association will also create a video of the posts for sharing at the annual IEA Representative Assembly.

So have some fun with your colleagues. Catch an IEA member doing something great that's above and beyond the call of duty. Snap a photo, post it and help them get some credit where credit is deserved.
