

Stand with U46 Bus Drivers & Assistants

As special education bus drivers and assistants, we are committed to the safety and success of every student.

We're not only connected to our students. Because we are employees of the district, we're plugged-in with teachers, paraeducators, administrators and the parents—everybody in the school community. That means together, we can all work to help every student be successful.

Most of us live in the district. We know the kids' names, and we know all the local routes in our community because we've driven them for years. Some of us have children and even grandchildren in local schools. Members of the community trust us because they know us.

Privatization means replacing trained, reliable and dedicated local school bus drivers and assistants with people who have less experience and aren't part of the school community. Plus, you lose quality control that's important in making sure students have the kind of experience and service they deserve.
